100 Dollars Reward.
RANAWAY from the subscriber, living at Sully, in the County of Fairfax, (Virginia,) a Negro Man slave named WILLIAM, who calls himself Wm. Burwell—He is a Mulatto, about 21 years old, five feet eight or ten inches high, straight and well made; he is active, fluent, artful, intelligent and very timid. His visage is thin, cheek bones rather high, eyes large, nose very flat, forehead low and generally covered with wool—lips large and flat, and from a peculiar formation of the bones of his jaws appear to be swollen just below the ears. He reads and writes tolerably well, and will undoubtedly exhibit a pass of some kind. He wore away a black cloth coat, which appears to be rather small for him; a pair of country cloth pantaloons made of cotton and black yarn, an old light colored surtout; but he might easily obtain a change of clothing. He was suspected of going to Alexandria, where his father, a freed man named Nat Burwell, lives. He has served me many years, as a house servant; and has lived in Alexandria, Staunton, in the county of Middlesex, (where he was born) & in Fairfax. For some months he waited in the Tavern of Capt George Turner of Staunton.
I will give the above Reward for the delivery of said slave to me, or sent by lodging him in the Jail of Alexandria or Fairfax, if he be brought from a distance exceeding 50 miles—and Fifty Dollars if from a less distance.
